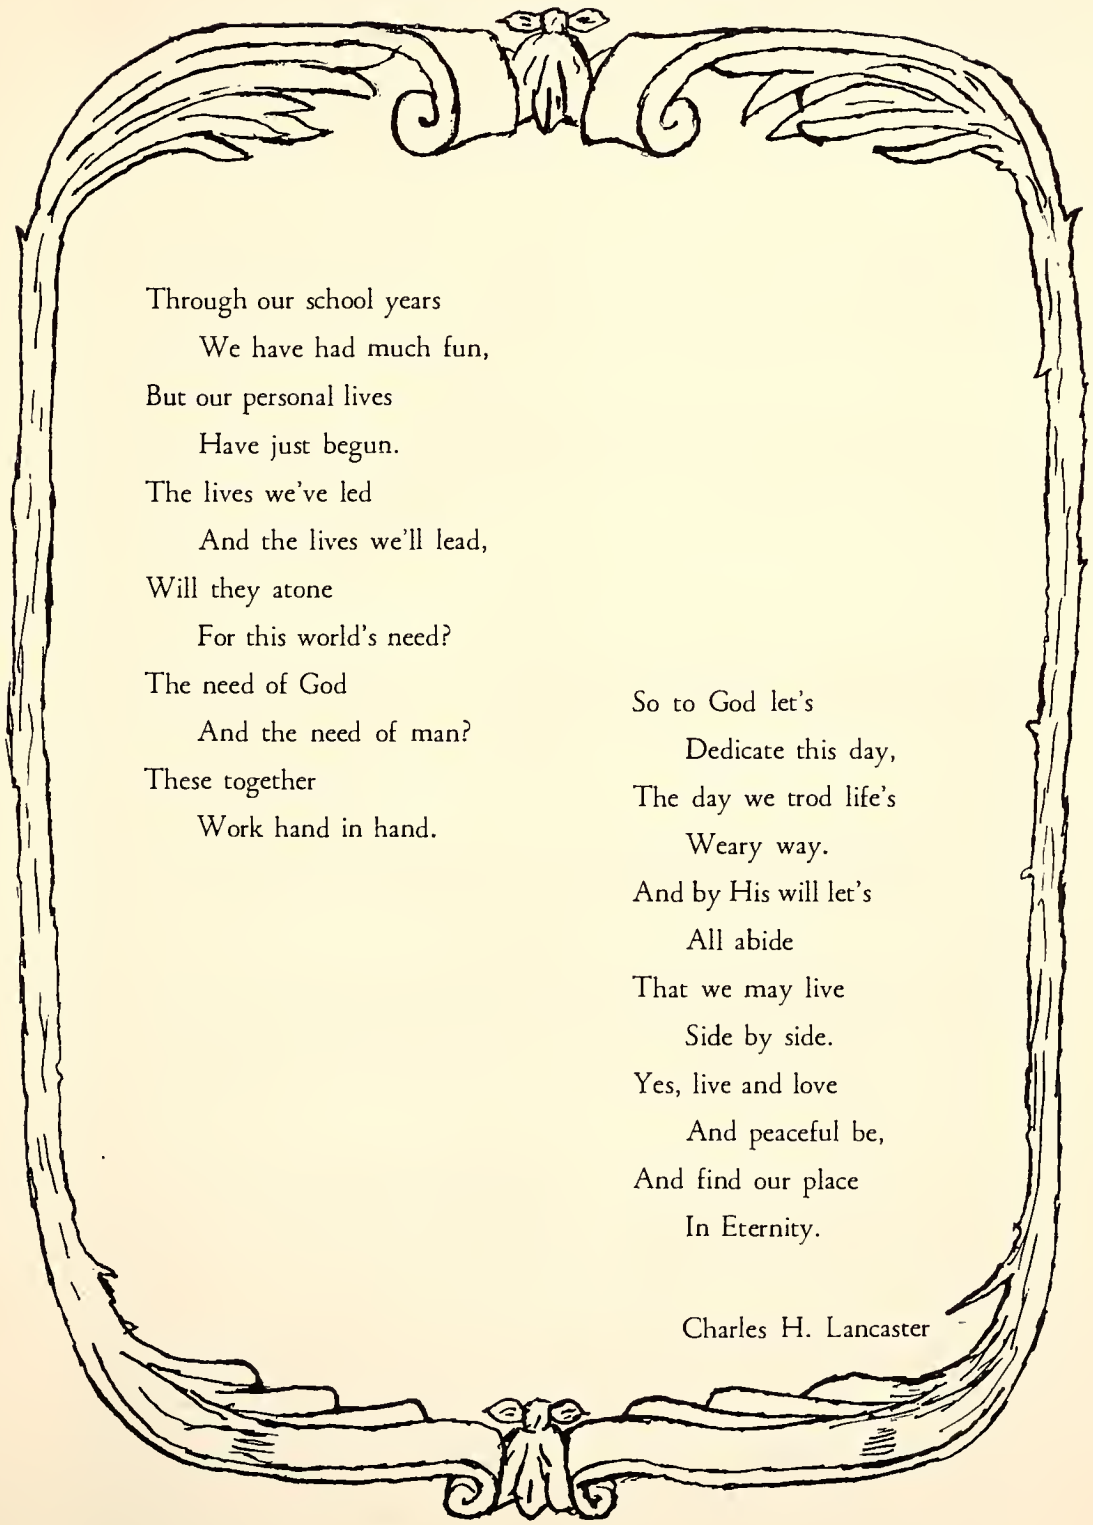
Class Poem



Through our school years
We have had much fun,
But our personal lives
Have just begun.
The lives we've led
And the lives we'll lead,
Will they atone
For this world's need?
The need of God
And the need of man?
These together
Work hand in hand.

So to God let's
Dedicate this day,
The day we trod life's
Weary way.
And by His will let's
All abide
That we may live
Side by side.
Yes, live and love
And peaceful be,
And find our place
In Eternity.

Last Will and Testament

We, the graduating class of 1953 of West Edgecombe High School, realizing that we are finishing our school days, do hereby make and publish this, Our Last Will and Testament, disposing of personal and collective property which has accumulated in our school years.

To our Alma Mater we leave the junior class to fill our vacant places in West Edgecombe High School.

To the Juniors we leave our home room in hopes that they will have as much fun as we did.

To the sophomores we leave Mrs. Jones for them to love and obey as we did.

To the freshmen we leave the four most enjoyable years of their lives.

Bobby Johnson leaves his ability to sleep on class to Dorothy Richmond so the rest of the class can catch up with her.

Donald Logan leaves his dependability to Bobby Daughtridge and Jimmy Rivenbark to make them successful seniors.

Jeannette Worsley leaves her conceit to Betty Lanier and Dorothy Proctor to make them more dignified seniors.

Gene Gay leaves his athletic ability to Robert Rose to keep West Edgecombe the champs.

Robert Burgess leaves his romantic ways to Richard Tolston and Elton Pridgen so they won't be without a girl during their senior year.

Peggy Langston leaves her sweet disposition to Ala Fla Proctor to help her stay as sweet as she is.

David Gurganus leaves his happy-go-lucky ways to Mack Taylor to help brighten his life.

Claude Braddy leaves his cute face to C. B. Lanier so that he will remain as he is.

Doris Jean Newsome leaves her quiet ways to Lucy Braddy so that the rest of the juniors can get a word in every once in a while.

Tommy Jenkins leaves his hunting ability to Billy Luther so he can get a breath of country air once in a while.

Mae Ezzell leaves her cute ways to Jean Johnson so that the juniors will have a laugh once in a while.

Elizabeth Jenkins leaves her talkative ways to Irene Proctor so that the rest of the class will know that she is still around.

Myrl Kinkead leaves her executive ability to Adeline Moore and Grace Nichols so their class will be a great success next year.

Christine Worrell leaves her singing ability to Ethel Jackson and Martha Raynor so that the Glee Club can carry on.

Velma Etheridge leaves her grudge against boys to Shirley Clark so the boys will have a breathing spell.

Joe Jenkins leaves his bashful ways to Charles Thomas and Robert Oakley to prevent so many broken hearts.

Loretta Joyner leaves her loud appearance to Oliver Williams and Earl Taylor to help brighten their outlook on life.

Peggy Land leaves her gossipy ways to Winifred Nichols so she can get the school spirit.

Dorothy Griffin leaves her dignity to Franklin Walters so his classmates will have nothing to complain about.

Christine Millwood leaves her versatility to Reather Fields so she will not miss a trick in her senior year.

Wilbur Edmondson leaves his manly physique to Harvey Joyner and Bill Davis to bring them up to sea level.

Joyce Breedlove leaves her laziness to Barbara Proctor so she will not work too hard.

Floyd Flora leaves his ability to use the mimeograph machine to Gordon Whitehurst and William Daughtridge so the class will continue The We Hi.

Jessie Dean Rose leaves her high temper to Eddie Jones so the girls will stop bossing him around.

Vernell Proctor and Donald Logan leave their devoted ways to Joyce Batts and George Proctor so that they will not be lonely during their senior year.

Carolyn Anderson has decided to leave Robert Oakley to Teddy Bulluck so she will not be without a boy friend in her senior year.

Frances Brake leaves her quiet ways to Joy Hux so the teachers will not have so many headaches.

Charles Lancaster leaves his sincerity to Bill Shirley to help Christine hold him.

Donald Murphy leaves his sly ways to Edwin Gurganus so he will not get caught so much

Nellie Bottoms and Ann Bottoms leave their ability to skip school to Doris Wallace so school will not get too monotonous.

Jimmy Edwards and Frank Bunn leave their mischievous ways to Doris Dickens and Shirley Cash to help brighten their lives.

Bobby Burgess leaves his stubborn ways to Nellie Edwards so that she can resist the boys.

Millie Price leaves her ability to get along with the teachers to Jack Williams so he will be a successful senior.

Russell Walters leaves his casanova approach to Billy Etheridge so he can catch a girl.

John Walter Lancaster leaves his gentleman-like ways to George Williams and Herschel Rose so the girls will date them.

Signed, sealed, published, and declared by the Senior Class of 1953, on this, the twenty-first day of May, in the year of our Lord, Nineteen Hundred and Fifty-Three.

Class Prophecy

Here we are again all gathered together at a class reunion at the Pleasant Hill Club House. The year is 1963. We have been out of school for ten years. Let us look into each others lives and see what ten years have done for us.

Carolyn Anderson, whose teeth got in the way of a baseball, is now a successful woman dentist in Rocky Mount, N. C.

Ann Bottoms, who was a hit in the Senior Play is starring on her own TV Program.

Nellie Bottoms and Elizabeth Jenkins are successful housewives.

David Gurganus, the comedian of the class, is now a clown in the Ringling Brothers Barnum and Bailey Circus.

Millie Price, who was tops in math, is now a Professor of Math at Woman's College.

Watching the diets of overweight people is Christine Worrell, who was always interested in Home Economics.

To make typing more up-to-date, we have Peggy Land and Doris Jean Newsome teaching at Hardbarger's.

To improve recreation in West Edgecombe Community, Loretta Joyner and Christine Millwood have opened a dancing hall.

Robert Burgess, who could never see why that foul was made, is writing annual basketball rule books.

Bobby Johnson, who was always devoted to his school bus, is now a Greyhound bus driver.

The Nobel Prize winner of 1963 is Charles Lancaster, whose literature has been translated into five different languages.

Floyd Flora, who was always interested in the school paper, is now a top reporter for the New York Times, edited by Myrl Kinkead.

Wilbur Edmondson, John Walter Lancaster and Gene Gay are the latest additions to the famous Globetrotters.

Frank Bunn, a lover of basketball, is now coaching at his Alma Mater.

Frances Brake, who was interested in teaching children, has her own kindergarten.

Vernell Proctor, the musician of the class now has her own music pupils.

Claude Braddy and Donald Logan, lovers of baseball, are now playing for the New York Yankees, managing the team is Russell Walters.

Joyce Breedlove is stenographer for Jimmy Edwards, a big business man in Sharpsburg.

Donald Murphy, who had an eye for Geometry, now has his own business—designing church windows.

Now we see Jessie Dean Rose in China serving as a missionary.

Tommy Jenkins, who was always interested in cars, is now the owner of a used car lot.

Bob Burgess, who always had so much speed, is now testing Jet airplanes for faster speed.

Joe Jenkins, who was always good in Bookkeeping, is now keeping books for Hanes Underwear.

Peggy Langston, who kept up the school spirit by cheer leading is now head of a recreational department in Raleigh.

Velma Ethridge, who was always interested in typing and bookkeeping, is now keeping books for the principal at W.E.H.S.

Mae Ezzell, who was always interested in softball, is now managing her own team in Winston-Salem.

Dot Griffin, who did such a good job of scorekeeping, is now keeping score for Everett Case of North Carolina State College.

Jeannette Worsley, who was a lover of Home Economics and basketball, is now designing basketball uniforms.
